Position summary

The Family and Domestic Violence Pilot Project Program forms part of the Commonwealth Government's initiative for Improving Health System Responses to Family and Domestic Violence. This initiative was funded as part of a broader suite of programs to support the Fourth Action Plan (2019-22) to Prevent Violence Against Women and Children.

The Family Violence Pilot Project is situated in the family violence early intervention initiatives. The project seeks to provide a more integrated and seamless service response across primary health care with a particular focus on General Practice, community service organisations and specialist family violence services, which supports effective early identification and intervention of clients who are at risk of or who are experiencing family violence.

The Family Violence Connector roles will target General Practice at a workforce, organisational and systems level, to improve effective early identification and support for clients at risk of or who are experiencing family violence.

Key responsibilities

1. Develop an integrated approach across primary care, community services and specialist family violence services to support early intervention for clients requiring support.
2. Build skills and expertise of the general practice workforce to appropriately and effectively identify, monitor and provide support for clients who are at risk of or are experiencing family violence.
3. Build the awareness of the general practice workforce regarding services and resources available for supporting clients who are at risk of or are experiencing family violence and linking clients with this support, and engage and develop positive working relationships with General Practice and support them to implement policies and practices which support clients at risk of or who are experiencing family violence.

4. Actively participate in the design of a project workplan and meet the objectives set within the workplan and funding schedule.
5. Develop partnerships and protocols between General Practice (including ACCHO led General Practices), specialist family violence services and community service organisations including ACCHOs, to support indigenous clients who are at risk of or are experiencing family violence.
6. Travel throughout the sub region attending appropriate meetings and developing strong links and protocols with relevant agencies and services.
7. Undertake train the trainer professional development with Safer Families Centre for Research Excellence to develop knowledge and expertise in the planning and delivery of the Readiness Plus Family Violence Program.
8. Ensure the up to date and accurate collection, recording and reporting of statistical and service data as required by the Western Victoria Primary Health network.
9. Work in collaboration with the project lead, Saxon Institute and Safer Families Centre for Research Excellence to design the evaluation methodology and collect relevant qualitative and quantitative data.
10. Provide supervision and support to students as required.
11. Other duties commensurate with current skills and experience as agreed with the Program Leader, Manager, General Manager or the Chief Executive Officer.
